Information

As Open Banking evolves, the industry faces a pivotal question: how do we move from compliance to commercial success? This session brings together those leading the charge to reveal what must change to turn Open Banking into a true growth engine. Hear how incentives across banks, TPPs, merchants and end users can be realigned to deliver lasting value, and what's required to future-proof the model for Open Finance and Smart Data. Expect bold discussion on what Open Banking 2.0 needs to succeed where the first iteration fell short, and why getting it right now will define the next decade of innovation.
